SPRING CONGREGATION 2025
May 21–23, 26–29
The Chan Centre for the Performing Arts

Dear Graduand,

Your graduation began long before this day.

It began when you made the choice to study that extra hour, dedicate yourself more deeply and strive to reach for the degree you had chosen to fully commit your life to pursuing.

Many of the people that helped you arrive here today are seated beside you—friends, family, classmates—while others are thinking of you from afar.

We are honoured to have given you a place to discover, inspire others and be challenged beyond what you thought was possible.

Yours, UBC

Chancellor

CHANCELLOR'S WELCOME

The transformation from student to graduate is a defining accomplishment, and one that will speak compellingly about you for the remainder of your lives. After all, you didn't just study hard and make good grades, you also had to learn some practical life skills that will be essential as you navigate the pathways ahead.

The UBC graduation journey has been forged by the spirit of the university's motto, Tuum Est, (meaning "it is yours") since 1915. Today, you, the graduating class of 2025, now shape UBC's history by making it your own.

For over 25 years, the Land and Food Systems Mentorship Program has connected 1,000 mentors with 3,000+ students. As UBC's longest running faculty-based mentorship program, our global community fosters life-long relationships, with mentors sharing knowledge and advice to support entrepreneurship, research, and educational excellence.

GRADUATION TRADITIONS: THE MACE

The University Mace is a symbol of the authority of the Chancellor. It is displayed on ceremonial occasions, most notably during the congregation ceremonies but also during the installation of a president or chancellor.

After a two-year process started in 1957, George Norris completed carving the mace from a block of yew, which includes a stylized thunderbird on the thick upper portion. The mace also features the use of copper trimming that is prominent in Northwest Coast native art, and was designed and prepared by Bill Reid.

GRADUATION TRADITIONS: REGALIA

The hoods, gowns and hats worn by those participating in the academic ceremonies are lined with colours to indicate the degree they have been conferred, a tradition dating back to the Middle Ages when the first universities were founded.

The academic regalia of senior administration feature Indigenous symbols of host nations of each respective campus. Designed by Chrystal Sparrow from the xʷməθkʷəy̓əm Indian Band the regalia were worn for the first time at UBC's fall 2020 graduation ceremonies.

GRAD CLASS LEGACY

UBC students have a rich legacy of gifting to the UBC Vancouver campus. This tradition includes gifting or dedicating a tree and additional gifts in honour of the graduating class.

The 2025 grad class tree is a Red Oak, located on the east side of Main Mall north of University Boulevard. In addition to the traditional graduating class tree, the class gift includes the installation of printers in the Nest; the refurbishment of the Revolving Gardens of the Nest; and a vibrant art mural in the basement of the Life Building.

Honorary degrees recognize individuals who have made substantial contributions to society. Conferred honoris causa, "for the sake of honour," these degrees are awarded as one of three types: Doctor of Laws, Doctor of Letters and Doctor of Science.

Marjorie Violet Birdstone

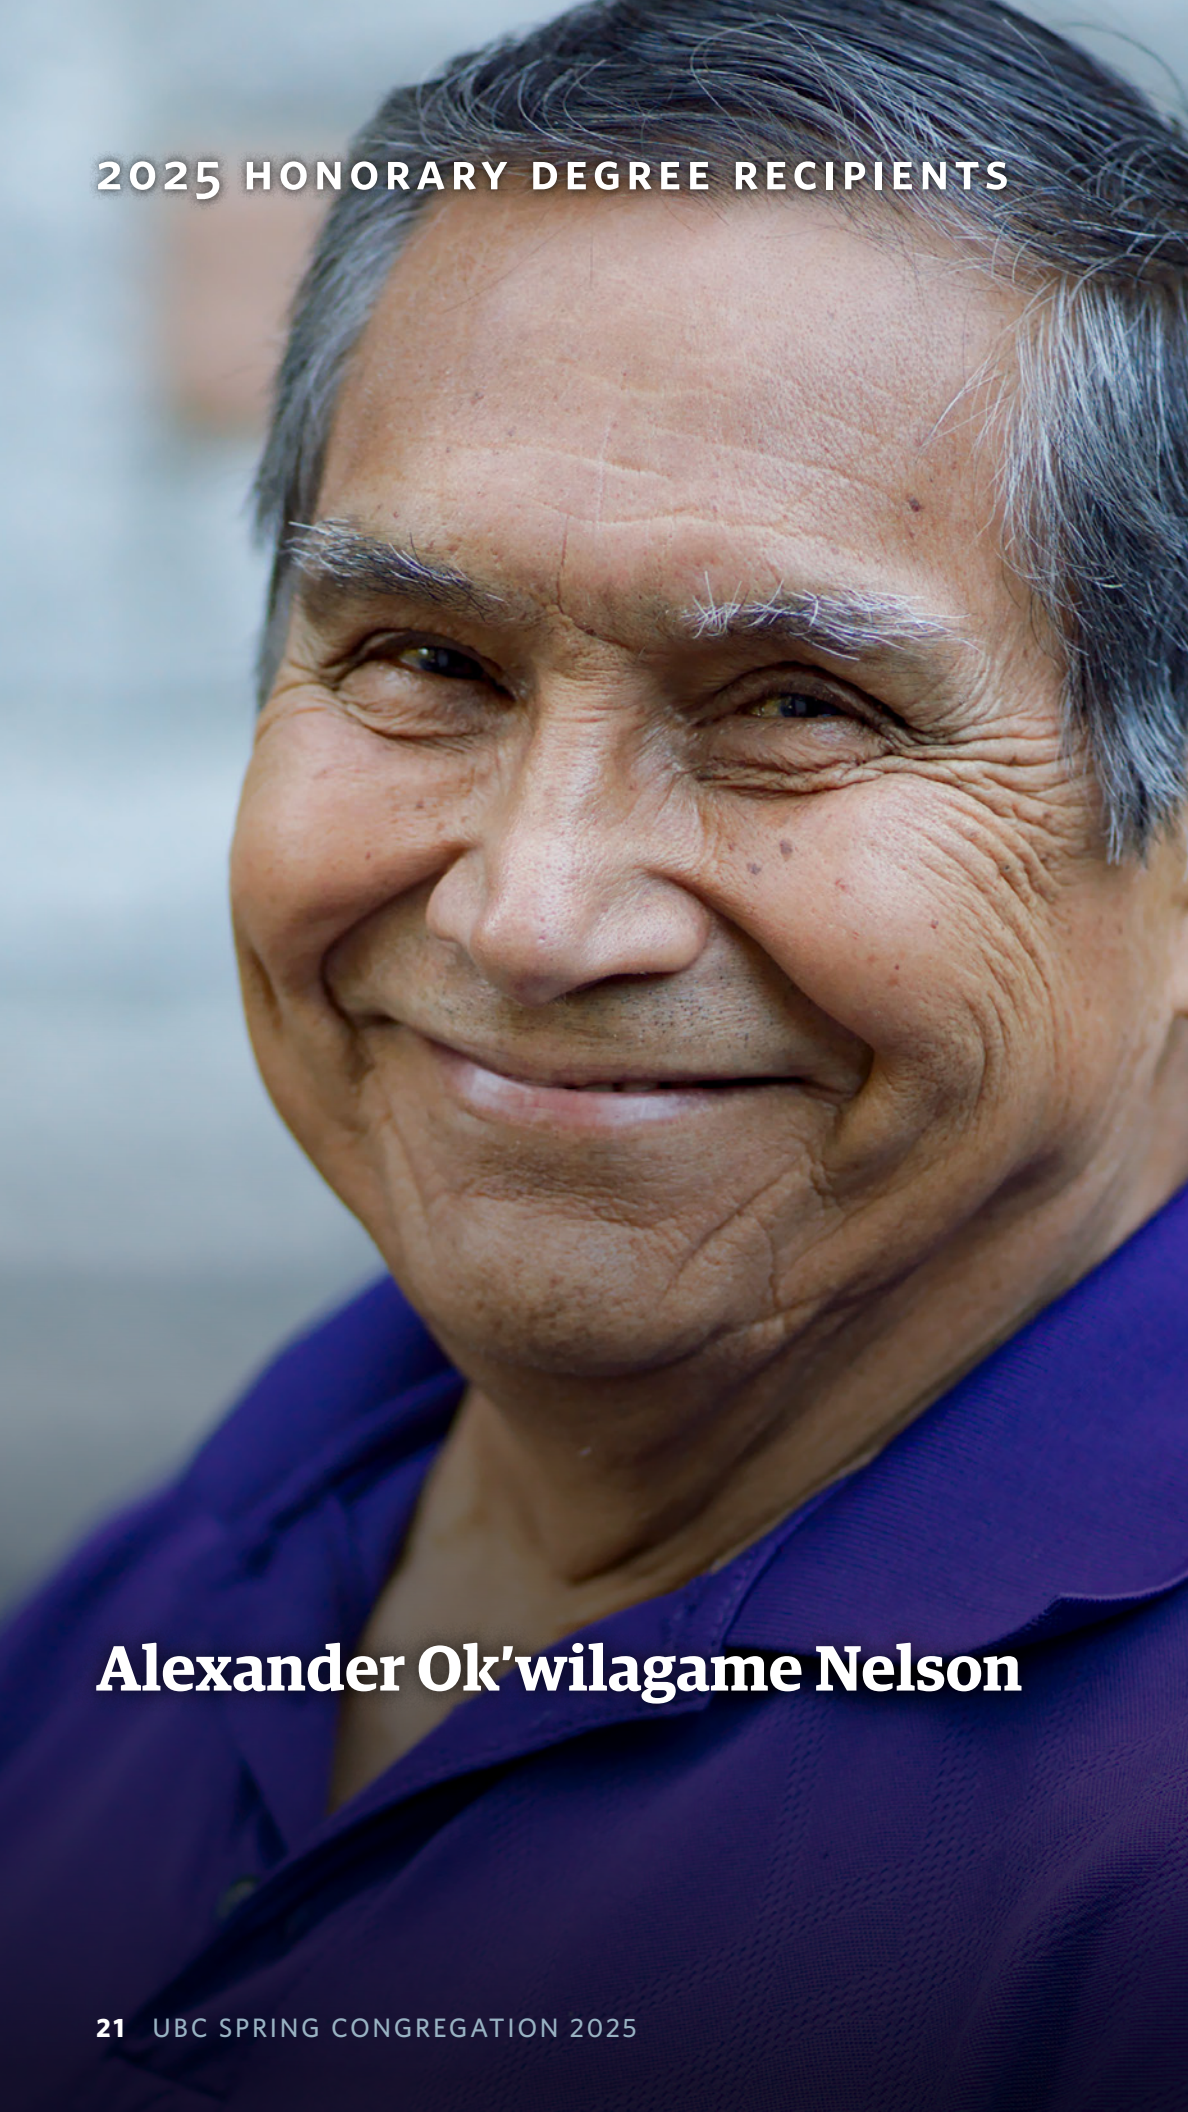
Marjorie Violet Birdstone

Marjorie Violet Birdstone is a Ktunaxa linguist, language consultant, scholar-educator, and language activist. A survivor of the residential school system, she has dedicated her adult life to maintaining Ktunaxa language and culture and to the reclamation and resurgence of Indigenous sovereignty through land, language, and learning. As a legal researcher for the Union of British Columbia Indian Chiefs, she has made significant contributions to advancing land and environmental claims of BC First Nations communities.

Erik Lindholm

Erik Lindholm

Erik Lindholm is a visionary inventor whose innovations have reshaped the landscape of technology. With 128 US patents, he held the titles of Senior Distinguished Architect and Master Inventor at NVIDIA, widely regarded as one of the world's most innovative companies. He has made key contributions to the invention and evolution of the GPU (Graphics Processing Unit) that is now powering the AI revolution. His remarkable career began with undergraduate and graduate studies in Electrical Engineering at UBC, and he remains an engaged and committed alumnus, steadfast in his dedication to both innovation and education.



Alexander Ok'wilagame Nelson

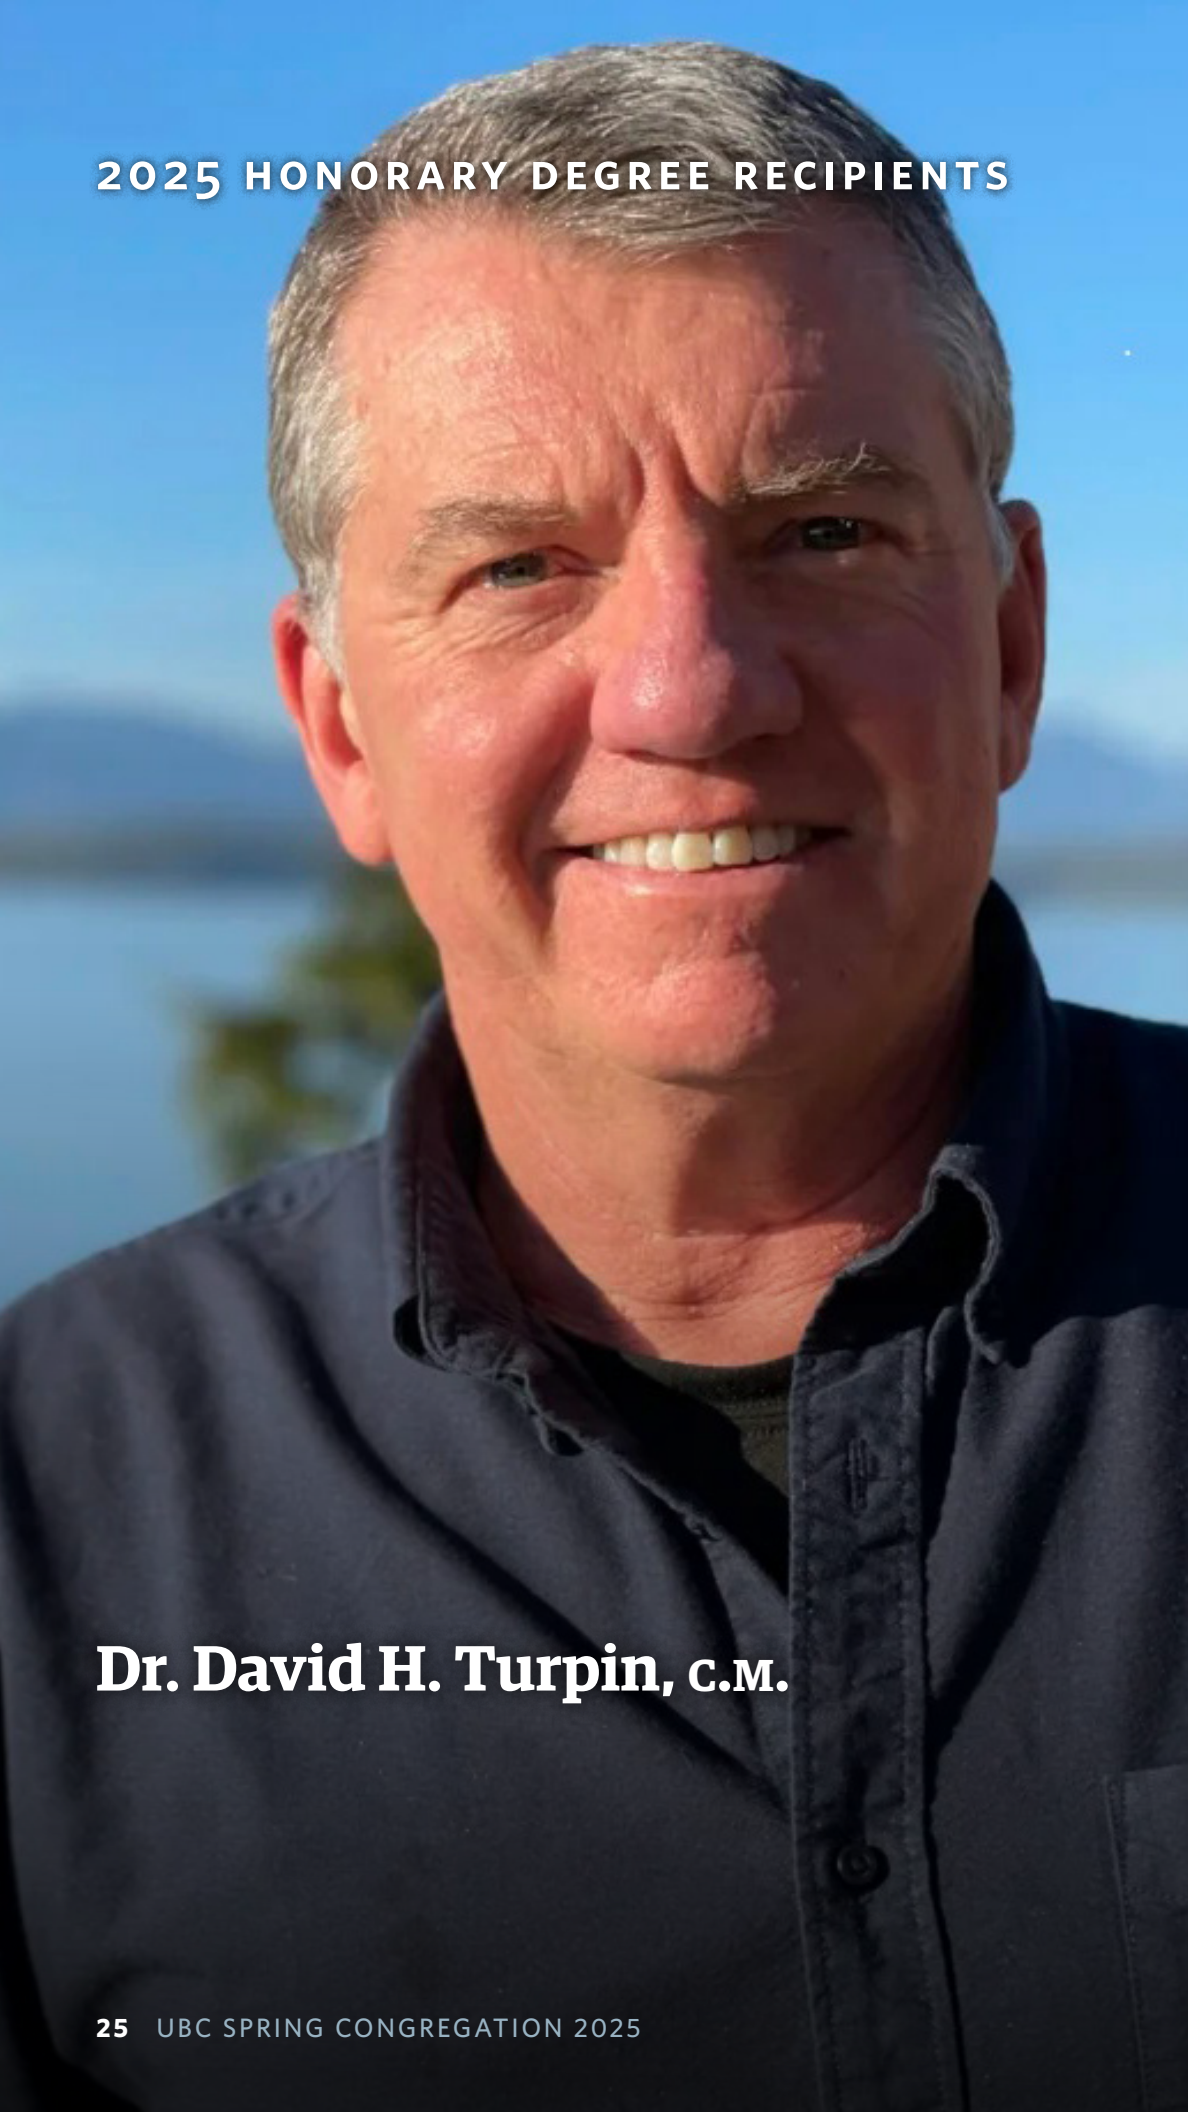
Alexander Ok'wilagame Nelson

Alexander Ok'wilagame Nelson, a member of the Musgamaqw-Dzawada'enuxw First Nation, has dedicated his life to transforming access to sport and recreation for Indigenous Peoples in Canada. Born in 1946 in Kingcome Inlet, British Columbia, Alexander endured seven years in the Alert Bay residential school system where soccer became his outlet for reclaiming a sense of personal freedom and making strong connections with peers. This formative experience led to a lifelong commitment to overcoming barriers to sport for Indigenous communities across Canada.

Mary-Woo Sims
沈明麗

Mary-Woo Sims 沈明麗

Mary-Woo Sims is the former Chief Human Rights Commissioner for British Columbia. She has been a lifelong advocate for 2SLGBTQIA+ rights and social justice, especially advancing same-sex spousal and transgender rights. She has contributed to legislative changes in both Ontario and British Columbia, which extended equal rights to same-sex couples in family law and adoption. Throughout her career, she has championed human rights through her involvement with various organizations and initiatives and regularly challenges racism, sexism and other forms of discrimination.



Dr. David H. Turpin, C.M.

Dr. David H. Turpin, C.M.

David Turpin is an eminent academic, biological scientist and senior university administrator. In the span of a 40-year career, he has led major research teams in the areas of biological oceanography, physiology and biochemistry. He has served as an academic leader at a number of Canada's most distinguished universities, including Professor and Head of the Department of Botany at UBC, Dean of Arts and Science and VP Academic at Queen's University, President and Vice-Chancellor of the University of Victoria, and President and Vice-Chancellor of the University of Alberta.

UBC BOARD OF GOVERNORS

UBC BOARD OF GOVERNORS

UBC's 21-member Board of Governors comprises the Chancellor, the President, eleven persons appointed by the Lieutenant Governor, three faculty members elected by faculty, three full-time students elected by students and two people elected by and from the full-time employees of the university who are not faculty members.

By legislation, the board is responsible for the management, administration and control of the property, revenue, business and affairs of the university including the appointment of senior officials and faculty on the recommendation of the president. The governors represent diverse backgrounds, which provide valuable input during board deliberations.
